The Florence Nightingale Foundation /
Public Health England Nursing,
Maternity and Early Years Directorate –
The Nana Quawson Public Health
Nurse Leadership Award Programme

Igniting leaders, fuelling potential.

Introduction

Who is it for?

The Florence Nightingale Foundation / Public Health England, Nursing, Maternity and Early Years Directorate – The Nana Quawson Public Health Leadership Award Programme is for Public Health Nurses who have current part 3 (SCPHN) registration with the NMC working anywhere in England, who have the potential to lead innovation in public health nursing contributing to continuous improvement in outcomes for children, young people and families. The emphasis of the scholarship is about improving health and wellbeing outcomes for children, young people and families, with an evidence based project focusing on leadership, evidence and prevention whilst developing leadership and advocacy skills.

This scholarship is aimed at public health nurses with experience of working within health visiting and school nursing services at a senior level with a passion for making a difference – it is a real opportunity to develop your leadership role and to maximize your potential, whilst raising awareness of the impact public health nurses make in terms of prevention and improving the nation's health.
