

Gordon Smith

Gordon Smith is a Tutor and experienced Nursing Associate based at Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust. Having gained the Florence Nightingale Leadership Scholarship, He is now a champion for the excellent opportunities and resources offered by the Foundation within the North West Region of England and beyond.

Gordon is an active proponent and spokesperson for the NAR role nationwide and is dedicated to the role's promotion as a Health Education England ambassador. Gordon is passionate about the promotion and maintenance of colleague well-being and an advocate of well-being conversations, creating workplace cultures that augment civility and a 'language of kindness' in order to promote effective team working and improved quality patient outcomes. Gordon is a member of the Chief Nursing Officer's Health and Well-Being Nurse Reference Group and wishes to discover and share further well-being practices to create a positive Health and Well-being culture within our NHS to ensure that all colleagues are valued, heard, supported and can shape their own futures.
