

JULIA FAIRHALL

I have been a nurse for 35 years; the past 24 years have been spent within the community setting. I have, during this time gained a wealth of clinical experience and knowledge and I feel very incredibly proud and privileged to be a Nurse.

I am currently as Assistant Director of Nursing with a work portfolio incorporating Community nursing, Clinical education and development HCSW development and Professional Nurse Advocacy. I am myself a Professional Nurse advocate and currently chair the Community National Professional Nurse Advocate network.

I am a Queens nurse and passionate about Community nursing and feel it's important for nurses to be present, involved and have a voice that is heard.

I am 2021 Florence Nightingale scholar which for me was such an inspirational year and has made me more curious, courageous and developed my self-awareness and insight regards my own values and beliefs. I also have developed an amazing a network. I am keen to share my experiences and learning from the scholarship and encourage nurses to come forward.
